

Dr Kingsuk Kumar Mondal
Technical Consultant in Specialty Fats & Product Development

Dr. Kingsuk Kumar Mondal is having about four decades of experience in processing and product development in edible oil processing with special reference to specialty fat after completing his doctoral degree in studies of fractionation of fats for making CBE from Calcutta University. He has rich experience in processing, product development and projects in specialty fats along with international expertise in Cocoa Butter substitute technology by acetone fractionation of shea fat, sal fat, mango fat and palm mid fraction. Presently Dr Mondal is working as an independent consultant for projects and product development in solvent fractionation of exotic fats like shea fat, sal fat, mango fat, palm mid fraction for making CBE and other value-added products. Dr Mondal worked as Consultant for several prominent organizations like Manorama Industries Limited, AAK Kamani Ltd, Cargill Ltd, Kuala Lumpur, Emami Agrotech Ltd. He also worked in several port refineries and other organization in their top management positions to improve their techno-economical production efficiencies, improve quality and product development in specialty fat area by doing R&D for more than thirty years.